COMPLIANCE

The UCF men's basketball program is on probation until Feb. 9, 2017, for NCAA violations involving the impermissible recruiting activity of outside third parties, impermissible benefits to prospective student-athletes, an impermissible recruiting inducement, unethical conduct, failure to monitor and lack of institutional control. The penalties include: public reprimand and censure; five years of probation through Feb. 9, 2017; a postseason ban for the 2012-13 season; limit of 11 total scholarships each year for three years; vacation of all basketball victories in which an ineligible student-athlete participated in 2008-09, 2009-10, 2010-11; head coach Donnie Jones was given a show cause over the next three years and will be required to complete additional rules training for three years; one less coach permitted to recruit off-campus at any one time for two years; head and assistant men's basketball coaches were prohibited from recruiting in July 2013; reduction in the available number of recruiting person days for two years; reduction in the number of paid official visits for prospects for two years.

In response to the infractions, the institution has increased its compliance staff, as well as its compliance educational and monitoring efforts. A greater emphasis has been placed on educating coaches, staff and fans on the rules and regulations concerning representatives of athletics interests and third party representatives. UCF has instituted the use of compliance and recruiting software for all athletics programs. In addition, the compliance office now shares a dual-reporting structure to the Vice President and Director of Athletics and the University's Chief Compliance and Ethics Officer. UCF will continue its efforts to promoting a culture of compliance throughout the university and becoming a national model for athletics compliance.

PRESEASON NOTES

YOUNG STARS RETURN

- The UCF men's basketball team was injected with new life in 2014-15 as then-freshmen B.J. Taylor and Adonys Henriquez succeeded from the start.
- Both natives of Orlando, Taylor and Henriquez have been long-time friends, and that chemistry showed on the court.
- Taylor and Henriquez were the Knights' top two scorers in their first season in Black & Gold, and both went on to earn American Athletic Conference All-Rookie Team honors.

#BIGSHOTBARRY

- Barry "B.J." Taylor led UCF and all freshmen in The American with 12.8 points per game, ranking 10th overall in the conference.
- His 334 total points were the most for a UCF freshman since the 1995-96 season.
- Taylor was named the league's Rookie of the Week three times en route to earning All-Rookie Team accolades.
- One of his many highlights was hitting the game-winner with less than two seconds on the clock to lift the Knights over Houston, 56-54.

HEN-THREE-QUEZ

- Adonys Henriquez played in and started all 30 games as a freshman in 2014-15. He logged more minutes (1,050) than any UCF freshman ever and ranks seventh in the school records for a single season.
- Henriquez was second on the team with 10.8 points per game and earned conference Rookie of the Week honors three times on his way to being named to the All-Rookie Team.
- A 3-point specialist, his 65 makes from long distance were the second most ever by a UCF freshman. His 3-point percentage of .395 was fourth in the league and currently ranks ninth in UCF's record book for a career.

BIG MAN BLAIR - A SENIOR

- Staphon Blair saw marked improvements as an upperclassman in 2014-15. He was fourth on the Knights in scoring with 7.8 points per game and led UCF in rebounding with 5.2 boards per contest.
- Blair was extremely efficient around the basket, finishing the year with a .609 field goal percentage. That mark was the second highest in the conference and was the fourth best for a single-season in UCF history.
- Always looking to swat the opponents' shots, the Ft. Lauderdale native blocked 38 shots. He now has 99 in his career, ranking fifth all-time in the UCF record books.

PAIR OF TRANSFERS READY

- UCF head coach Donnie Jones has two talented transfers ready to make an impact for the Knights in the 2015-16 season in redshirt sophomore A.J. Davis and junior Tanksley Efanayi.
- Davis, who transferred from Tennessee prior to last year, sat out 2014-15 due to NCAA rules. The 6-foot-9 forward - and son of former NBA star Antonio Davis - can play multiple positions and will give the Knights plenty of flexibility with his ability to score, handle the ball, defend and rebound.
- Efanayi comes to UCF from Daytona State, where he scored 20.3 points per game while earning NJCAA Second Team All-America honors. The 6-foot-6 wing can also play multiple positions for the Knights.

3-POINT THREAT IS BACK

- Matt Williams proved himself as a serious outside threat for the Knights as a sophomore in 2013-14, leading UCF with 56 threes and a .384 3-point shooting percentage.
- He was all set to have an even bigger impact as a junior, but after playing just one game, he missed the entire 2014-15 campaign due to injury.
- Now completely healed, Williams is set to return to the fold as a redshirt junior with two years of eligibility remaining for the Knights.

KNIGHTS

HIGHLY-TOUTED FRESHMAN CLASS

- Donnie Jones signed one of the top recruiting classes in program history, inking freshmen Tacko Fall, Chad Brown and Chance McSpadden as well as junior Tanksley Efiyanayi this past November.
- Fall is the well-known 7-foot-6 center out of Senegal, who averaged 20 points, 15 rebounds and five blocks per game as a senior at Liberty Christian Prep in nearby Tavares, Fla.
- Brown is a 6-foot-9 forward out of Deltona, Fla. A four-star recruit, he averaged 14.7 points, 15 rebounds and 9.4 blocks per game as a senior.
- McSpadden, a 6-foot-4 lefty combo guard, went for 24.4 points and 6.0 rebounds per game as a senior at nearby Winter Haven High School.

TACKO FALL FACTS

- Fall stands at 7 feet, 6 inches tall, making him among the 40 or so tallest living human beings in the world.
- He is one of two current NCAA basketball players listed at 7-foot-6, joining UC Irvine's Mamadou N'Diaye, who is also from Senegal.
- Hand Length: 10.5 inches
- Wingspan: 8 feet, 0.5 inches
- Shoe Size: 22

THE #ORLANDOFOUR

- Donnie Jones loves to keep local talent at home, which is why he has eight players from Florida and 11 who went to high school in the Sunshine State on his roster.
- Moreover, six Knights call the Central Florida area home and four are from right here in Orlando.
- B.J. Taylor, Adonys Henriquez, Matt Williams and Tanksley Efiyanayi all grew up in The City Beautiful.

BALLIN' IN THE BAHAMAS

- The Knights spent six days in the Bahamas this summer, playing three international teams.
- Donnie Jones loved that it gave his young squad an opportunity to play competitively prior to the fall.
- The experience on the court was great, but it was the time spent bonding and team building while away from home that Jones was most excited about.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

- UCF's Academic Progress Rate (APR) multi-year score for 2013-14 - announced this past May - was 958.
- It marked the highest score ever for the Knights' men's basketball team since the APR was introduced in 2004.
- It was 15 points higher than UCF's score of 943 in 2012-13 and showed a 38-point improvement since the 2011-12 data.

THE AMERICAN TOURNEY IN ORLANDO

- UCF will act as the host institution for the 2016 American Athletic Conference Men's Basketball Championship in Orlando.
- Scheduled for March 10-13, the event will be held at the Amway Center, home of the Orlando Magic.

HEAD COACH • SIXTH SEASON

@DONNIEJONESUCF

In five years as UCF's head coach, Donnie Jones has taken the Knights to new heights. Whether it has been victories over nationally-ranked teams, trips to the postseason, top-25 rankings, triumphs over conference rivals or individual honors for his players, Jones has guided UCF to plenty of historic firsts.

Jones, who won a pair of national championships as an assistant at Florida, was named the head coach at UCF on March 29, 2010. In his introductory press conference the following day, he said that his goal was for UCF to have continued success and become a factor on the national level. Jones has already helped the Knights achieve those aspirations.

IMMEDIATE SUCCESS

The first of three-straight 20-win seasons while at the helm of the Knights, Jones' first at UCF was a huge success. The 2010-11 campaign was highlighted by wins over No. 16 Florida, Miami and UMass en route to a perfect 13-0 non-conference slate and UCF's first appearance in the national rankings. The Knights spent four weeks in the top-25, rising as high as 18th in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll and 19th in the Associated Press Top 25 after improving to 14-0 to start the season. UCF was one of only six teams in the nation that went undefeated in non-league play, joining Duke, Kansas, Ohio State, Syracuse and San Diego State. Finishing the season 21-12 overall, the Knights also participated in the College Basketball Invitational, the program's first at-large appearance in a postseason tournament.

A SEASON OF FIRSTS

The 2011-12 campaign was filled with historic achievements for the Knights. UCF went 22-11 overall, posting the fourth-most victories for the program since the school moved to the Division I level in 1984. Thanks to an RPI in the 50s, and some impressive victories, the Knights were selected to the NIT for the first time. UCF received a No. 6 seed in the historic event and opened the tournament at Drexel. Jones guided his squad to a 10-6 record in C-USA, good for third in the final league standings. UCF defeated UAB at the league championship to advance to the C-USA semifinals for the first time since joining the conference in 2005. In league play, the Knights registered their first victories over Memphis and UAB. Jones also led UCF to one of the biggest wins in program history as the Knights rallied from a 17-point second-half deficit to defeat No. 4-ranked and defending national champion UConn at the Battle 4 Atlantis in the Bahamas.

ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

The Knights enjoyed another successful campaign in 2012-13, posting a 20-11 mark while facing one of the toughest schedules in program history. In its final season in Conference USA, UCF tied for fourth in the league standings at 9-7 to post its second-consecutive top-four finish. The Knights had some big victories during the year, including a triumph at in-state rival USF to open the season and wins over top-50 RPI squads in Belmont and Southern Miss.

GUIDING KNIGHTS INTO NEW ERA

With Jones at the helm, the Knights joined the new American Athletic Conference for the 2013-14 season and have taken on some of the most prestigious programs in college basketball over the last two years. The conference has had two of the last three national champions in Louisville (2013) and Connecticut (2014). With every conference game televised on either the ESPN or CBS family of networks, the Knights have enjoyed unprecedented national exposure while facing teams rich in basketball history in UConn, Cincinnati, Memphis and Temple.

SUCCESS OFF THE COURT

Under Jones, the Knights are not only shining on the court. UCF players are also enjoying success in the classroom. Twelve players that Jones has coached at UCF have earned their bachelor's degree. This past summer the NCAA announced its Academic Progress Rate statistics, and the Knights' numbers were stellar. UCF's single year APR was a perfect 1000 in 2012-13, the first time ever the program achieved the feat. The Knights' multi-year score of 943 was also the highest ever for the men's basketball team since the APR began in 2004. Following the 2011-12 campaign, A.J. Rompza was one of five league players to be named to the C-USA Men's Basketball All-Academic Team. The Knights also shined in the classroom in 2012-13 as five squad members earned C-USA Commissioner's Academic Honor Roll recognition.

TURNAROUND AT MARSHALL

Jones came to UCF after three seasons at Marshall, where he quickly turned around the Thundering Herd program. Jones was named Marshall's head coach in 2007. He inherited a program that had struggled since joining C-USA in 2005, and quickly changed the culture surrounding the Herd. Less than three years later, Jones led the Herd to one of the top campaigns in program history. In 2009-10, Marshall went 24-10 and advanced to the second round of the CollegeInsider.com Tournament. The appearance was the first trip to the postseason in 22 years for the school. Jones' squad began the tournament with a victory over Western Carolina, giving Marshall its first postseason win since 1967. Marshall finished the year 11-5 in C-USA play. Marshall had one of the top offenses in the country and led C-USA by scoring 79.9 points per game. To help accomplish the impressive turnaround, Jones attracted several talented players to Marshall, including Hassan Whiteside, who led the nation in blocks in 2009-10. The post player swatted 182 shots - the fourth-most in NCAA history. Whiteside was named both the C-USA Freshman and Defensive Player of the Year, and garnered Freshman All-America Second Team honors from The Sporting News. Sacramento picked Whiteside with the 33rd overall pick in the 2010 NBA Draft. In three seasons at Marshall, Jones compiled a 55-41 record. After arriving in Huntington, W.Va., in 2007, Jones led the Herd to a 16-14 mark during his inaugural campaign. In 2008-09, Marshall went 15-17 overall and 7-9 in league games.

TAKING FLORIDA TO THE TOP

Prior to taking the helm at Marshall, Jones served for 11 years as an assistant coach at Florida, helping the program claim a pair of national titles and make three trips to the Final Four. Working as an assistant under Billy Donovan from 1996-07, Jones helped Florida win back-to-back national championships in 2006 and 2007. He played a key role in Florida's recruiting and player development that led to a school-record nine-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, four Southeastern Conference

Eastern Division titles and three SEC Tournament crowns. Florida recorded a 261-103 mark during Jones' time with the program. The 2006 squad defeated its six NCAA Tournament opponents by an average of 16 points en route to the national title. The following year, Florida became the first team in 15 years to repeat as national champions. Florida went 33-6 in 2005-06, and then recorded a 35-5 mark the following season.

FINDING TOP TALENT

Jones excelled on the recruiting trail while at Florida. During his time at the school, the program signed 11 McDonald's High School All-America selections and boasted top-five national recruiting classes on five occasions. Jones also helped recruit and mentor 12 National Basketball Association Draft picks while at Florida, including five lottery selections. Jones' NBA players include Matt Bonner, David Lee, Mike Miller and Jason Williams. Following Florida's 2007 national title, five of Jones' pupils - Corey Brewer, Taurean Green, Al Horford, Joakim Noah and Chris Richard - were selected in the draft.

MOVING UP THE LADDER

Before moving to Florida, Jones served on the Marshall staff for six years, the first two as a graduate assistant. During the final two seasons of his tenure as an assistant at Marshall, Jones worked under Donovan, who later took the head coaching position at Florida. Prior to his arrival at Marshall, Jones worked for two years as an assistant at his alma mater, Pikeville College in Kentucky. A native of Point Pleasant, W.Va., Jones earned his bachelor's degree in business education from Pikeville in 1988, and received his master's degree in sports management from Marshall in 1992. Jones had a stellar college playing career at Pikeville, recording a school-record 513 career assists. As a senior he finished second nationally in the NAIA with 10.7 assists per game. Jones is married to the former Michelle Gibson. The couple has three children: Madisyn Michelle, Sophie Louise and Donald Isaac.

Shawn Finney, who has five years of experience as a Division I head coach, joined Donnie Jones' staff at UCF as the associate head coach in April 2010. Finney has helped UCF reach new heights as the Knights have enjoyed plenty of memorable moments during his five campaigns in Orlando.

UCF achieved immediate success in 2010-11 with the new coaching staff, as the Knights entered the national rankings for the first time in program history. UCF spent four total weeks in the rankings, including three weeks with a spot in both national polls. Finney helped a pair of UCF players earn individual honors from Conference USA at the conclusion of the regular season. Marcus Jordan was an All-C-USA Second Team selection, and Keith Clanton was named to the all-league third team.

In 2011-12, UCF went 22-11 and achieved many impressive firsts, including the program's first trip to the postseason National Invitation Tournament. The Knights also made their inaugural appearance in the C-USA Championship semifinals, defeated league foes Memphis and UAB for the first time and defeated a top-5 ranked squad - No. 4 UConn - for the first time. The victory over UConn, which came at the Battle 4 Atlantis in the Bahamas, snapped the defending national champions' 16-game winning streak. During the campaign, Finney helped Clanton become just the second Knight to garner All-C-USA First Team honors since the program joined the league in 2005.

With Finney on staff, the Knights joined the new American Athletic Conference for the 2013-14 season and have taken on some of the most prestigious programs in college basketball over the last two years. The conference has had two of the last three national champions in Louisville (2013) and Connecticut (2014). With every conference game televised on either the ESPN or CBS family of networks, the Knights have enjoyed unprecedented national exposure while facing teams rich in basketball history in UConn, Cincinnati, Memphis and Temple. In 2013-14 Sykes earned All-AAC Second Team and All-Tournament Team honors. Last season a pair of freshmen in B.J. Taylor and Adonys Henriquez were named to the league's All-Rookie Team.

Finney, who was the head coach at Tulane from 2000-05, helped Jones rebuild the program at Marshall before coming to UCF. The Mullens, W.Va., native helped the Thundering Herd to one of the top seasons in school history in 2009-10. Marshall went 24-10, including a program-best 11-5 mark in C-USA, and advanced to the second round of the CollegeInsider.com Tournament. The appearance was the first trip to the postseason in 22 years for the school.

Marshall attracted several highly-touted recruits during Finney's tenure, including Hassan Whiteside, who led the country in blocks in 2009-10. He swatted 182 shots, the fourth-most in NCAA single-season history. Whiteside was named both the C-USA Freshman and Defensive Player of the Year, and garnered freshman All-America second team honors from The Sporting News. The post player was selected by Sacramento with the 33rd overall pick in the 2010 National Basketball Association Draft.

During Finney's time leading the Tulane program, every student-athlete he recruited graduated. He recruited and coached 2004-05 C-USA All-Freshman Team selection Taylor Rochestie. During the 2001-02 campaign, Finney led the Green Wave to big wins over Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech. The following year, Tulane again defeated an Atlantic Coast Conference opponent when it knocked off the Yellow Jackets.

Before accepting the job at Tulane, Finney was an assistant coach for Tubby Smith at Tulsa (1991-95), Georgia (1995-97) and Kentucky (1997-00). In all three of his campaigns at Kentucky, Finney helped the Wildcats advance to the NCAA Tournament, highlighted by the national title in 1998. The Wildcats went 35-4 that season.

Finney mentored numerous future NBA players while at Kentucky, including Tayshaun Prince, Jammal Magloire, Nazr Mohammed and Scott Padgett.

During his two seasons at Georgia, the

"His experience as a player and a coach in the NCAA Tournament with Harvard will fit in perfectly with the culture we are establishing here at UCF. He has great energy and passion for the game."

While on Tommy Amaker's staff at Harvard, the Crimson continued its reign atop the Ivy League, finishing the 2014-15 season tied with Yale for the conference title. Harvard defeated the Bulldogs in a one-game playoff for the right to represent the league in the NCAA Tournament.

In his first year as a coach in 2013-14 Harvard set program records for overall wins (27) and conference victories (13) en route to the team's fourth consecutive Ivy League title. In the NCAA Tournament the 12th seeded Crimson knocked off fifth-seeded Cincinnati in the second round.

"I am extremely honored and proud to be joining Donnie Jones' staff at UCF," Webster said in May of 2015. "I am looking forward to learning and growing under Coach Jones and the rest of his well accomplished staff. I hope to bring energy and a winning pedigree to the program. We have a lot of work to do so I cannot wait to get to Orlando and get going."

TOM STERNER

DIRECTOR OF PROGRAM DEVELOPMENT FIRST SEASON

Alma Mater:

MILLERSVILLE, 1978

UCF men's basketball head coach Donnie Jones added to his staff this week, announcing the hiring of long-time NBA assistant coach Tom Sterner as the Knights' Director of Program Development on Wednesday.

Sterner has spent the last 25 years working on the coaching staffs of the NBA's Orlando Magic, Golden State Warriors, Dallas Mavericks, Philadelphia 76ers and most recently the Toronto Raptors. During his time in the NBA, he has worked under great coaches like Chuck Daly, Doc Rivers and Rick Carlisle and coached some legendary players like Shaquille O'Neal, Dirk Nowitzki, Grant Hill, Jason Kidd and Tracy McGrady.

After coaching high school basketball from 1981-87, and a stint with NCAA Division III's Franklin and Marshall from 1987-90, Sterner began his career in the NBA with then newly formed Orlando Magic in 1990. After starting as a video coordinator, he became an assistant coach on Brian Hill's staff in 1994. That season the Magic finished the season 57-25, won the Eastern Conference Championship and lost to the Houston Rockets in the NBA Finals.

Sterner continued as an assistant with the Magic with time spent under Chuck Daly (1997-99) and Doc Rivers (1999-02) before moving on to a position with the Golden State Warriors. He worked under Eric Musselman on the Warriors staff from 2002-04 before returning for his second assignment with the Magic.

Following another two seasons under Hill with the Magic, Sterner accepted a position on the Dallas Mavericks' staff working with head coach Rick Carlisle. The Mavs reached the playoffs in both 2008-09 and 2009-10 with Sterner on staff, finishing the latter campaign 55-27 to win the Southwest Division.

A season working as a scout for the Philadelphia 76ers was next for Sterner, who then got right back into coaching, accepting an assistant position on Dwane Casey's staff in Toronto. Sterner helped Casey lead the Raptors back to relative prominence, winning the Atlantic Division and earning a playoff berth in both 2013-14 and 2014-15.

Sterner, who earned his bachelor's degree from Millersville University and master's from Temple, lives in Orlando. He and his wife Marcia have two daughters; Malorie and Paige.

2014-15 REVIEW

FRESHMAN PHENOMS

B.J. Taylor and Adonys Henriquez burst onto the scene in their first season at UCF. The pair of Orlando natives wowed their hometown fans as the Knights' top two scorers.

Taylor led UCF and was the highest scoring freshman in the league with 12.8 points per game. His 334 total points were the most scored by a Knight freshman since the 1995-96 season.

Henriquez was second on the team with 10.8 points per game and the sharpshooter led UCF with 65 three-pointers. It marked the second most threes by a freshman in school history.

Taylor and Henriquez were both named the American Athletic Conference Rookie of the Week three times during the 2014-15 season en route to earning spots on the league's All-Rookie Team.

PROTECT OUR HOUSE

With only one senior in the rotation and three underclassmen as their top three scorers, the 2014-15 season was a learning process for the Knights. While UCF finished just 12-18 overall, the Knights continued to perform well on the Blacktop of CFE Arena.

UCF finished the year 10-8 at home with key non-conference wins over USC Upstate, Georgia Southern and Detroit. The Knights also picked up three thrilling home victories in AAC play, defeating in-state rival USF, Tulane and Houston.

The Knights topped Tulane 103-100 in triple overtime as Taylor went for a season high 33 points on Jan. 14. It was then Taylor who sank the game-winner with less than two seconds left on Feb. 15 to lift UCF past the Cougars, 56-54.

10 THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT UCF

Young and Strong: UCF, founded in 1963, is the second-largest university in the nation, with about 61,000 students.

View from the Outside: UCF is regularly ranked among the nation's top values by Kiplinger and The Princeton Review. U.S. News & World Report identifies UCF as one of the nation's top up-and-coming universities and one of the best schools for veterans.

National Playbook for Higher Ed: UCF has joined the University of Texas, Ohio State, and eight other large public research universities to establish the University Innovation Alliance. The schools share and adapt ideas to develop a "national playbook" of programs benefitting low-income and first-generation students.

Great Gamers: UCF's Florida Interactive Entertainment Academy ranks No. 2 among all video game development graduate schools in North America, according to The Princeton Review and PC Gamer.

On the Defensive: The Collegiate Cyber Defense Club @ UCF has won two consecutive national championships, earning the College of Engineering and Computer Science students back-to-back trips to the White House.

Serving New Students: The university is starting an inclusive education program offering students with intellectual disabilities an opportunity to experience an immersive campus experience to prepare them for independent lives.

Match Point: UCF and the United States Tennis Association are building the new center for American tennis, a complex of more than 100 courts in Lake Nona to open in 2016 that will also provide UCF's teams with some of the finest facilities in the nation.

Top Scholars: UCF ranks No. 9 nationally among public institutions with 275 National Merit Scholars enrolled.

Diverse Campuses: A record 41 percent of UCF students are minorities.

Albert Manero was listening to the radio when he heard a story about children in need of arms and hands. The doctoral student in aerospace engineering was moved to help. He pulled together a group of classmates and friends at UCF, and within a few weeks they'd built a 3-D printed robotic arm for a 6-year-old boy named Alex Pring. The arm changed Alex's life at a production cost of about $350 – far less than the roughly $40,000 price tag of a traditional prosthetic, and at no cost to Alex's family. That effort has grown into Limbitless Solutions, a multidisciplinary team of UCF students who spend their free time building robotic limbs for children. Under Albert's leadership, the team has posted plans on the Internet for anyone to use, drawing attention from around the globe. It even caught the eye of Robert Downey Jr., who presented Alex with an updated, Iron Man-themed arm built by the Limbitless team. Albert showed us that engineering can change lives, one helping hand at a time.

Phillip Gordon grew up in Orlando's Parramore community, where children face long odds to overcome a cycle of poverty, crime and violence. The city's Parramore Kidz Zone outreach program taught him leadership and encouraged him to see college as an option for life beyond the streets. DirectConnect to UCF – a program that's earned nationwide praise – brought Phillip from Valencia College to the University of Central Florida, where he earned a bachelor's degree in criminal justice. Phillip won't abandon Parramore, though. He's dedicated himself to helping other young people from that community by working as a youth counselor at both the Dr. J.B. Callahan Neighborhood Center and the Cherokee School while he pursues a teaching certification and a master's degree. He hopes to teach at a new K-8 school being built in Parramore, and to be a real-life inspiration to students there.

DR. JOHN C. HITT

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT • 24TH YEAR

Twenty-Three Remarkable Years

Dr. Hitt celebrated his 23rd anniversary at UCF in 2015, and he is the longest-serving public university president in Florida. Under his leadership:

- Enrollment has nearly tripled to exceed 60,000 students
- UCF rose from the fifth-largest university in Florida to the largest, and from the 115th-largest university in the country to the second largest
- UCF has enrolled more freshman National Merit Scholars than any other university in Florida during the past two years, ranking 9th nationally among public universities for freshman scholars enrolled in fall 2014
- UCF produces more graduates than any other university in Florida
- UCF's minority enrollment has reached an all-time high of 41 percent

President Hitt's Five Key Goals

Much of UCF's success during President Hitt's tenure relates to the steady pursuit of the five key goals that he established in 1992.

- Offer the best undergraduate education available in Florida
- Achieve international prominence in key programs of graduate study and research
- Provide international focus to our curricula and research programs
- Become more inclusive and diverse
- Be America's leading partnership university

A Winning Approach

Many of UCF's signature achievements result from partnerships. UCF combines its resources with others in government, business, education, and philanthropy to create mutually beneficial facilities and programs. Those include:

- The UCF College of Medicine at Lake Nona, which anchors a medical city projected to generate up to 30,000 jobs in the years ahead
- The Florida Interactive Entertainment Academy, recognized as one of North America's leading graduate video-game programs
- The DirectConnect to UCF program, which guarantees admission to graduates from five nearby state colleges
- The UCF Institute for Simulation and Training, a world leader in developing simulation for training in the military, health care, and elsewhere
- The Florida High Tech Corridor, which connects businesses with top student and faculty talent from UCF, the University of South Florida and the University of Florida to drive high-tech jobs in 23 Central Florida counties

Athletics Thrive

President Hitt's years at UCF coincide with great advances in Knights athletics, including:

- Completion of the 45,000-seat Bright House Networks Stadium and the 10,000-seat CFE Arena
- Graduation of UCF football from Division I-AA to Division I
- Ascent of all UCF athletic teams to the American Athletic Conference, bringing unprecedented national exposure to the university and more marquee matchups to Knights fans
- Rise in UCF's student-athlete graduation rate to become the nation's best among public universities and to trail only Duke, Notre Dame, Stanford and Northwestern among all Division I institutions

Go Knights!

The president's team approach to tackling opportunities, challenges, and problems has taken UCF from promise to prominence, and it has earned him and the university many accolades.

- President Hitt has twice ranked No. 1 on Orlando Magazine's list of Orlando's 50 Most Powerful People, and he also earned the Orlando Sentinel's Central Floridian of the Year award
- UCF is among the top "up and coming" schools in the country in the U.S. News & World Report 2015 best colleges ranking
- The Carnegie Foundation designated UCF as a "very high research activity" institution, Carnegie's highest ranking
- Kiplinger and The Princeton Review have recognized a UCF education as one of the best values in the country

More on President Hitt

- He grew up in Texas, and he was the first in his family to graduate from college
- He came to UCF after 19 years of administrative experience and a distinguished academic career at Tulane University, Texas Christian University, Bradley University and the University of Maine
- He met his wife, the former Martha Halsted, at Austin College in Texas, where he played football as an offensive lineman
- The Hitts celebrated their 53rd wedding anniversary last year
- They have two children and two grandchildren

AMERICAN ATHLETIC CONFERENCE

In the course of its first two seasons, the American Athletic Conference has taken a place at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics, earning a collection of national team and individual championships and football postseason wins that place The American among the elite Division I conferences.

The American consists of 12 prestigious institutions: the University of Central Florida, the University of Cincinnati, East Carolina University, the University of Connecticut, the University of Houston, the University of Memphis, the U.S. Naval Academy (in football only), the University of South Florida Southern Methodist University, Temple University, Tulane University and the University of Tulsa.

Under the leadership of Commissioner Mike Aresco, the American Athletic Conference has written an impressive list of accomplishments, both in and out of the competitive arena.

The league has produced three NCAA championship teams – UConn men's basketball in 2014 and UConn women's basketball in 2014 and 2015 – and two individuals who have won NCAA titles, most recently SMU's Bryson Dechambeau, who was the 2015 national champion in men's golf. Additionally, American Athletic Conference teams have advanced to the College World Series, the semifinal and final rounds of the NIT and the match play round of the NCAA Men's Golf Championship. Half of the conference's baseball-playing members reached the NCAA Championship in 2015, while The American had the best men's basketball postseason record of any conference in 2014, when conference teams were a combined 13-4. Teams from The American have registered top-10 national rankings in football, men's basketball, women's basketball, baseball, men's soccer and men's golf.

The American is quickly making its mark in professional sports as well, beginning with the selection of UCF quarterback Blake Bortles by the Jacksonville Jaguars with the No. 3 pick in the 2014 NFL Draft.

More recently, a number of American Athletic Conference athletes have been selected in the first round of the professional entry drafts in football, basketball, baseball and soccer. UConn's Cyle Larin was the No. 1 overall pick in the 2015 Major League Soccer SuperDraft as he was chosen by Orlando City SC. UCF's Romario Williams was taken by the Montreal Impact at No. 3, giving The American two of the top three picks in the draft. UConn's Sergio Campbell went at No. 19 to the Columbus Crew as the third pick from the conference in the first round.

In the 2015 NFL Draft, UCF's Breshad Perriman and UConn's Byron Jones were selected consecutively in the first round – Perriman to the Baltimore Ravens at No. 26 overall and Jones to the Dallas Cowboys at No. 27. It was the second straight year in which The American had at least two first-round selections.

UConn's Kaleena Mosqueda-Lewis was selected by the Seattle Storm with the No. 3 pick in the 2015 WNBA Draft, while UConn's Kiah Stokes went 11th overall to the New York Liberty.

Cincinnati outfielder Ian Happ, the 2015 American Athletic Conference Player of the Year, was chosen by the Chicago Cubs with the No. 9 overall pick in the 2015 Major League Baseball Draft.

In football, two American Athletic Conference football teams were ranked in the top 15 of the final 2013 Associated Press poll, while Memphis finished the season in the top 25 of the 2014 polls as Tigers tied UCF and Cincinnati for the conference title. Six of the 12 teams that compete in The American in 2015 played in bowl games to cap the 2014 season as Memphis, Houston and Navy earned postseason victories.

Teams in The American have enjoyed almost unprecedented success since the conference's formation. Memphis finished with 10 wins in football for the first time since 1938. SMU advanced to the NCAA Men's Basketball Championship for the first time since 1993. UCF and Houston have both achieved top-10 rankings in baseball in the past two years. USF finished the 2014-15 season at No. 8 in the final men's golf national ranking. The UConn women's basketball team won its NCAA-record ninth and 10th national championships as a member of The American.

The American Athletic Conference holds media rights partnerships with ESPN and CBS Sports which give the conference outstanding national exposure on the two industry leaders in sports television. The football portion of the contract calls for nearly 90 percent of conference-controlled games on national broadcast or national cable platforms. The first American Athletic Conference Football Championship, which will be played Dec. 5, 2015, will be carried on either ABC or ESPN on Championship Saturday.

In men's basketball, the television deal calls for all conference-controlled games to be televised, with more than 63 percent slotted for national broadcast or national cable – a minimum of 107 games. The entire postseason tournament will be televised, including the championship game, which will be on ABC or ESPN. Sixty percent of the American's women's basketball games will be carried on national cable, regional sports networks or ESPN3, while the conference has a multi-year agreement with CBS Sports Network for coverage of select baseball games.

American Athletic Conference teams have access to the pinnacle of college football's postseason structure. An American representative would be chosen for the College Football Playoff semifinals if it is among the top four teams in the CFP selection committee's final ranking. Otherwise, the league would place its champion in either the Vizio Fiesta Bowl or the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl if it is ranked higher than the champions of Conference USA, the Mid-American Conference, the Mountain West Conference and the Sun Belt Conference.

Additionally, The American holds primary or secondary partnerships with 12 bowls for the current six-year cycle, ensuring multiple annual matchups against the nation's top conferences and providing desirable postseason destinations to member institutions and their fans.

The American Athletic Conference administers to its membership from a state-of-the-art office located in Providence, R.I. The location of the conference headquarters – just steps from the city's Amtrak station and 10 minutes from T.F. Green International Airport – gives the conference easy access to its member schools.

The conference headquarters is equipped with a complete video production studio, serving as the home of the American Digital Network, and small- and large-scale meeting rooms to accommodate the many coaches' and administrators' meetings held on-site each year.

CFE ARENA

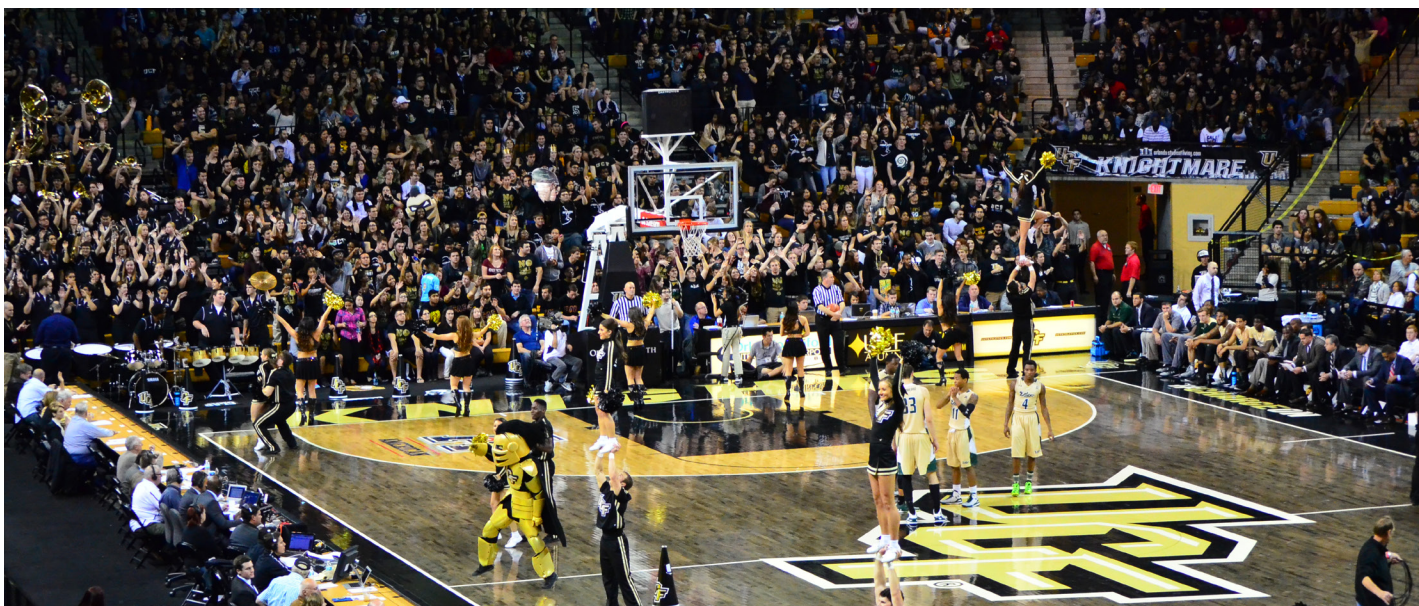

In CFE Arena, the Knights play in one of the finest facilities in the nation. The 10,000-seat venue opened in the fall of 2007 and is located on the north side of campus. The facility has dozens of top amenities, including a state-of-the-art video board, luxury suites and wide concourses.

CFE Arena is the best of both worlds - a first-class facility which also highlights the essence of college basketball. The building is one of only a few in the nation that offers unparalleled luxury to student-athletes and fans, and also has a great gameday atmosphere. Similar to National Basketball Association venues, the arena features 16 spacious luxury suites and two party suites. The suites include kitchenettes and bar-style seating and can accommodate up to 20 guests. Additionally, the facility has two loges and the unique Black and Gold Club, which provides exclusive access to the club seating area. The arena helps provide UCF fans with a great entertainment experience during games. The Daktronics scoreboard above center court has four video screens that show replays and provide player information.

The arena was given an updated look in 2013 when the Knights' new "blacktop" court was installed.

UCF PRACTICE FACILITY

Not only do the Knights utilize one of the nation's finest home venues CFE Arena, members of the team also have access to the UCF Basketball Practice Facility. The venue opened in spring 2008 and includes a practice court for the Knights.

UCF student-athletes have access to the facility 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The facility connects to the UCF Arena. The men's basketball practice court contains six baskets, two shot clocks and a scoreboard. The Knights use the court for team practice sessions, individual development and as a location for pickup games.

The facility is equipped with a video system that allows the UCF coaching staff to tape every practice and workout. The coaches then visit with each student-athlete to analyze their performance. Offices and conference rooms for the UCF coaching staff are located on the second floor of the practice facility. The practice facility was constructed during the 2007-08 campaign inside the former home of the Knights - the old UCF Arena. UCF played at the facility from 1991-07.

A 2,000-square foot weight room is located on the first floor of the facility. The weight room provides the Knights with access to free weight and machine equipment, cardio and treadmills. UCF's basketball teams are the only programs that use the weight room. The Knights utilize a large sports medicine center located inside the practice facility. The sports medicine center connects to the team's locker room. Additionally, the center is adjacent to the CFE Arena for the Knights to use before and after games.

Inside the UCF Basketball Practice Facility, the Knights utilize a new locker room, which also connects to the CFE Arena. Next to the locker room is a new theater-style film room.
